The Daily Work

EPISODE
3 · STEP 5

> Thought becomes real through action: one complete day at a time, one task at a time, with your full attention.

DO

- [ ] Morning: choose three things for today. Just three.
- [ ] Midday: one thing at a time, fully.
- [ ] Evening: close the day with three things completed and one thank-you.
- [ ] Leave one interaction better than you found it.

SAY

"Today is complete in itself."

"Not more effort. More presence."

"I do my part, and I trust the soil."

REMEMBER

> Judge the accumulation of days, not one day.

> Hurry splits attention. Calm gathers it.

> Nothing is small when it is done with purpose.

REFLECT

My three things today:

What I completed:

My one thank-you:
